ABOUT THE IAQM

We are the Institute of Air Quality Management, the professional body for air quality professionals.

The mission of the IAQM is to be the authoritative voice for air quality by maintaining, enhancing, and promoting the highest standards of working practices in the field and for the professional development of those who undertake this work.

The IAQM play an influential role in the air quality sector by producing useful and timely guidance on matters affecting air quality professionals and by responding to government consultations.

We organise a busy CPD calendar each year, with attendance at the majority of events being free for our members.

We also publish reports and journals concentrating on the science, modelling, policy and legal issues surrounding air quality.

Routes to Clean Air is an annual two-day conference where air quality, public health, and transport professionals share their experiences of improving air quality.

The IAQM is the largest membership organisation for air quality professionals in the UK.

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

When: Monday 20th and Tuesday 21st October

Where: Woburn House, London

The Institute of Air Quality Management (IAQM) presents Routes to Clean Air 2025, its annual conference on topics relevant to air quality practitioners and associated professionals. This year's conference will take place over two days.

The programme will feature thought-provoking presentations and panel discussions ensuring an extensive exploration of the most relevant subjects in air quality management.

Routes to Clean Air 2025 is also a great opportunity for networking, allowing delegates to forge meaningful connections with fellow air quality professionals. We understand the value of collaboration and knowledge exchange as well as gaining valuable CPD.

In addition to this, delegates will also have the chance to interact with leading companies in the air quality sector. This is their chance to see some of the latest cutting-edge technologies, innovative solutions, and best practices aimed at tackling the challenges associated with air pollution.

The conference will offer attendees first-hand experience of the latest advancements and provide invaluable insights into the future direction of air quality management.
